

GUESTS ON KALEIDOSCOPE: 3 and 6 2018

Celia Craig

Otis Elston

Jonathan Bligh

Celia Craig is Principal Oboe in the Adelaide Symphony Orchestra. On October 12 and 13 she is playing the world premiere of an oboe concerto composed by Judith Weir, with the ASO at the Adelaide Town Hall. Judith Weir is also an oboist and she will be in Adelaide to hear the performance. Music by Hadyn and Sibelius also on the program.

In the Adelaide Botanic Gardens until October 14, The Wind in the Willows directed by Otis Elston will be on show to delight young and old. Produced by Australian Shakespeare Company and with local actors. Book through the website shakespeareaustralia.com.au or buy tickets at the Garden. Bring a picnic and have fun. Tues to Sun 10.00am Fri & Sat 2.00pm

Jonathan Bligh is off to USA to further his studies as a choral conductor. His Festival Statesmen recently won the National Barbershop A Capella title with the highest score in history. A fantastic achievement!

Next week: Alex Roose and mark Locket et al

Kaleidoscope on Wednesday at 6.00pm and Saturday at 11.00 am
Or listen to the podcast.

