

GUESTS ON KALEIDOSCOPE: 28 November and 1 December 2018

David John Lang

Karl Geiger

Wyn Davies

Rachel Johnston

The Adelaide Wind Orchestra is presenting a concert, Sunburnt Country, featuring Australian women composers. As David John Lang, himself a composer and conductor, explains the works reflect something the title, and include a world premiere. 1 December, Elder Hall 7.30pm

Musical Director, Karl Geiger previews Noel! the last concert for the year by the Adelaide Graduate Singers. Music includes new settings of old carols, favourites to sing along with, and some rarely heard Christmas Music. 7 December at Pilgrim Church and 8 December at St Peter's Cathedral, both at 8.00pm

State Opera is presenting Lehar's Merry Widow at Festival Theatre from 29 November to 6 December. Visiting conductor, Wyn Davies, says that the singers are fantastic and the orchestra sounds wonderful! He should know.

Rachel Johnston, known more as a classical cellist, is part of a trio of musicians showcasing a different style of music, as part of the Musica Viva Discovery series. There are drinks from 6.30pm and music from 7-8pm on 29 November at the Museum of Discovery - a new venue in North Terrace adjacent Morphett Street Bridge. $20 include music, drinks and nibbles

Next week: Varden Ovsepiyan, Emily Cufone and George Gatenby

Kaleidoscope on Wednesday at 6.00pm and Saturday at 11.00 am
Or listen to the podcast.

