

GUESTS ON KALEIDOSCOPE: 4 and 7 September 2019

*Yundi Yuan and Andrew Groch *Cathie Cox *Mathew Loeser

Yundi Yuan is playing the Shostakovitch Piano Concerto No 1 with the Elder Conservatorium Chamber Orchestra. Andrew Groch is the conductor. They are joined by Owen Morris, trumpeter from the ASO. This is a lunchtime concert at Elder Hall on 13 September, and is part of the post graduate studies Yundi is undertaking at the Elder Conservatorium. Andrew Groch is studying Master of Conducting, supervised by Luke Dollman.

Singer Cathie Cox discusses some of the music which will be presented by the Corinthian Singes at St John's Church Halifax Street on 15 September at 3.00pm The concert is entitled Stories and Secrets with music from a number of composers and eras. Book at Trybooking

Mathew Loeser is celebrating twenty five years as a performer, with a show that includes theatre organ, piano and singing in cabaret style with music from the movies and well loved songs. Mathew began his career at the Capri Theatre Goodwood, at the age nine, and this is where the concert will be on 15 September at 2.00pm

Next week Konstantin Shamray, Andreas Brantelid and Rosalie Cocchiaro

Kaleidoscope on Wednesday at 6.00pm and repeated Saturday 11.00am