Dave Brown is the founder of Paper Boats, a cooperative theatre project linking a number of countries who share ideas about producing theatre events for younger children. Unfortunately the performance of When the Mirror Bird Sings has had to be postponed, but Dave's views on children's theatre are also valid and interesting.

Dr Annette Gero was to have given talks entitled War and Pieced, about quilts made by military men. These have been cancelled due to Covid-19 but some of the quilts will be on exhibit at David Roche Foundation 241 Melbourne Street North Adelaide from 16 May, She is the author of a number of books on the history of quilting.

Hyll Sims is the Chief Executive Officer of Musica Viva. As they have had to cancel their programs for the foreseeable future I talked to him about the activities they are able to pursue, such as the Schools Program and strategies for keeping the music alive, as the name of their organisation name implies.

Next week: Annette Marner
