

Kaleidoscope 9 and 12 December 2020

Simon Lord

The Adelaide Symphony Orchestra has launched program for the first part of the year 2021.

There is a strong emphasis, including the Miriam Hyde Circle, on supporting women composers. Works by Miriam Hyde, Lily Boulanger, Anne Boyd will be performed, but also Robert Schumann, Mozart and Haydn, to ensure gender balance.

Simon Lord, the Director of Artistic Planning, talks about how he has put the season together, and some samples of the music are featured to support his interview.

Next week: Petronella van Tienen, Zhao Liang, Graham Whittle

Kaleidoscope: Wednesday at 6.00pm: repeated Saturday 11.00am
