

Kaleidoscope 3 and 6 March 2021

Guests this week are:

Keith Crellin

Kathy Selby

Lynton Rivers and Graham Strahle

The AdYO is back in business with Maestro 1 being presented on 28 March at Elder Hall. The orchestra will be playing Mozart's Clarinet Concerto with Dean Newcomb and Vaughan Williams London Symphony. Keith Crellin talks to Kaleidoscope about the music and the challenges during 2020.

Kathy Selby is back on March 7 with a concert titled Exotic Strudel. It combines some exotic music and Schubert. Her friends in this concert are Suzie Page, violin and Julian Smiles, cello.

Adelaide Baroque in The Art Of Musick to be performed on 13 March at Adelaide Town Hall, give us a view into the life of Purcell and his music, through the eyes of his wife, Frances. Graham Strahle has researched and collated the dialogue while the music is played and sung by the Adelaide Baroque. Cast includes Max Reibl, Timothy Reynolds and Anna Steen.

Next week: Simon Martin Ellis, Gary Sanderson, Gabrielle Smart, Cathy Cox
Kaleidoscope: Wednesday at 6.00pm: repeated Saturday 11.00am