

Kaleidoscope 24 and 27 November 2021

Nicholas Braithwaite

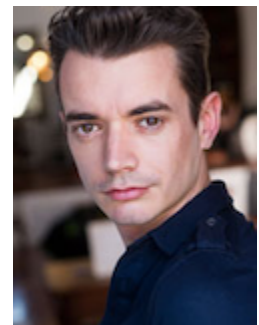

Andrew Threlfall

Barb Cornish

The Adelaide Symphony Orchestra has appointed Nicholas Braithwaite Conductor Laureate in recognition of his 30 years association with the orchestra. He has worked all over the world, conducting symphony orchestras and operas, so has many stories to tell.

Andrew Threlfall is CDP Co-Company Director talks about three delightful plays for young children to be staged at the Dunstan Theatre between 8-21 December. Check details and book at ticket

Barb Cornish, President of TOSA, gives details of a fundraiser for TOSA called Thanks for the Memory. The proceeds go towards the restoration of the theatre organ at the Capri. Lots of music and good fun on Sunday November 28th at 2.00pm Tickets: $30, $25 and $20. Book through Capri Theatre.

Next week: Ed Ayres, Kathy Selby, Misuri

Kaleidoscope: Wednesday at 6.00pm: repeated Saturday 11.00am

